1. Scope of application

1.1 Deliveries and services are governed exclusively by the following terms and conditions. Any divergent, conflicting or supplementary terms and conditions of the ordering customer do not become part of the contract, even where there is knowledge of such terms and conditions, unless their validity is expressly consented to in writing. Our terms and conditions apply even if we made unconditional delivery to the ordering customer where we have knowledge of terms and conditions of the ordering customer that conflict with or differ from our terms and conditions.

1.2 Our terms and conditions apply only in respect of businesspersons within the meaning of § 310 (1) of the German Civil Code (BGB). They also apply to all future transactions with the ordering customer, provided that they are a similar type of transaction.

1.3 Our offers are non-binding and become binding only upon written confirmation from the supplier or once delivery has been made.

2. Prices and Payment

2.1 Unless otherwise agreed in writing, our prices are ex works, exclusive of packaging and plus VAT at the currently applicable rate. Packaging is charged at cost and shown separately on the invoice. Deliveries are made at the prices that are valid on the date on which the contract is concluded.

2.2 Unless otherwise agreed in writing, invoices for deliveries of goods are payable with a 2% discount within 15 days provided that the ordering customer is not in default as regards payment of receivables or net within 30 days of the invoice date. In principle, invoices for other services are payable net without any discount. Cheques are deemed payment only after they have been honored.

2.3 Default interest is charged at 9 percentage points above the respective base interest rate per annum. We reserve the right to claim greater compensation for loss incurred because of late payment.

2.4 If, after the acceptance of an order, there are legitimate reasons to doubt the ordering customer's ability to pay, we may choose whether to demand cash payment for all outstanding receivables or to demand the provisions of collateral before delivery. If the ordering customer does not comply with this demand, we may demand the return of the goods subject to reservation of ownership and rescind the contract.

2.5 The ordering customer will be entitled to set off payment against counterclaims only if the ordering customer's counterclaims have been established with final and binding effect by a court, are undisputed or have been acknowledged by us.

3. Transfer of Risk on Shipment

3.1 Unless otherwise agreed, shipment is made on a carriage forward basis. The risk of accidental loss or accidental deterioration of the goods passes to the ordering customer – even where the works' own vehicles are used – at the time the goods are handed over to the transporting entity. This applies irrespective of whether the goods are shipped from the place of performance or who is responsible for the freight or insurance costs.

4.4. Delivery Period

4.1. The commencement of the delivery period specified by us is subject to the clarification of all technical questions and to the ordering customer fulfilling its obligations duly and on time. We reserve the right to assert the defense of non-performance of contract. If the ordering customer delays the acceptance of the goods or culpably breaches other obligations to cooperate with us, we are entitled to demand compensation for any damage that we may suffer as a result, including any additional expenses. We reserve the right to assert more extensive claims.

4.2. Force majeure will exempt us from our obligation to deliver. Circumstances that make it unreasonably difficult or impossible for us to deliver at no fault of our own will be deemed equivalent to force majeure regardless of whether such circumstances concern us or our subcontractors.

4.3 Partial deliveries are permitted unless the ordering customer cannot reasonably be expected to accept them.

5. Warranties and Report of Defects, Liability

5.1 The assertion of warranty rights by the ordering customer requires that the ordering customer has duly met its obligations under § 377 of the German Commercial Code (HGB) with regard to inspecting goods and reporting defects. Obvious defects must be reported in writing without delay, but within 14 days after receipt of the goods at the latest, and concealed defects must be reported in writing without delay after they are identified; otherwise, the goods will be deemed to have been accepted. Any transport damage must be reported immediately to the freight forwarder.

5.2 Should – despite all due care having been given – the delivered goods have a defect that was already present at the time the risk was transferred, we will at our discretion repair the goods or deliver replacement goods, provided that the defects were reported in due time. We must always be given an opportunity to correct deficiencies (subsequent remedy) within a reasonable period.

5.3 With regard to the quality/properties of the goods, as a rule, only our product description will be deemed to have been agreed on. Public statements, commendations or advertising do not constitute proper information on the quality/properties of the goods.

5.4 Claims of the ordering customer in respect of expenditures incurred in connection with subsequent remedy, including without limitation transport, in-transit, labor and material costs, are excluded where the expenditures are higher because the goods delivered by us were subsequently moved to a location other than the ordering customer's establishment, unless such transportation is in accordance with their designated use.

5.5 In the event of a simple negligent breach of a material contractual duty (including the duty to deliver defect-free goods), that is a duty the due fulfillment of which the ordering customer relies on and may rely on to achieve the contractual purpose, our liability is limited to the typically occurring, foreseeable damage. Any further liability is excluded. This does not apply if a defect caused by simple negligence results in injury to life body or health. This will have no effect on liability under the German Product Liability Act (Produkthaftungsgesetz).

6. Reservation of Ownership

6.1 Irrespective of any treatment or processing, the goods supplied remain our property until all receivables under the business relationship have been settled. The inclusion of individual receivables in an open account or the striking and acknowledging of a balance does not affect the reservation of ownership. Payment is deemed to have been rendered when it has been received by us. The ordering customer is entitled to sell the reserved goods subject to reservation of ownership in the ordinary course of business; the ordering customer is not permitted to pledge the goods or assign them by way of security. The ordering customer must secure our rights in all cases where the goods subject to reservation of ownership are resold on a credit basis. The goods may not be sold after payments have been suspended or an application for insolvency has been filed. The ordering customer's receivables resulting from the resale of goods subject to reservation of ownership are hereby assigned to us until all of its claims have been satisfied; we accept this assignment. Where the ordering customer and its customers conduct business on an open account basis, the respective balance is deemed to have been assigned to us in advance. The ordering customer may collect accounts receivable that have been assigned to us unless the ordering customer is in default of payment or has suspended payments or an application to open insolvency proceedings has been filed.

6.2 The ordering customer must provide us with all information and documents that we need to assert our rights towards the party that has purchased from the ordering customer without delay if requested to do so

6.3 We must be informed without delay of any enforcement measures by third parties regarding the goods subject to reservation of ownership or the accounts receivable assigned in advance; all necessary documents must be handed over.

7. Place of Performance and Place of Jurisdiction

7.1 The place of performance for delivery is Idar-Oberstein or Hoppstädten-Weiersbach, as decided by us. The place of performance for payments is Idar-Oberstein. If the ordering customer is a merchant/entrepreneur, the place of jurisdiction for all disputes, irrespective of their legal basis, is the regional court with jurisdiction for Idar-Oberstein. We are, however, entitled to bring an action against the ordering customer at the court with jurisdiction for the ordering customer's domicile.

8. Final provisions

8.1 If individual provisions of the present terms and conditions or of the delivery transaction are or become invalid, this does not affect the validity of the remaining provisions. An invalid provision will be deemed replaced by a valid provision that reflects as closely as possible the economic intent of the invalid provision.

8.2 This Agreement and the entire legal relations between the parties are governed by the laws of the Federal Republic of Germany, excluding the United Nations Convention on Contracts for the International Sale of Goods.
